

It is the belief of Reseda and the Reseda Neighborhood Council that the position of superintendent of the los angeles unified school district be elected by the general public in a general election rather than selected behind closed doors.